

Briefly Terms of Service

Effective Date: June 7, 2026

1. Acceptance of Terms

By accessing or using Briefly ("Service"), you agree to be bound by these Terms of Service. If you do not agree with these Terms, you may not use the Service.

2. Description of Service

Briefly is an AI-powered information aggregation and summarization platform that helps users monitor and analyze content from selected sources, including but not limited to:

- Telegram channels and groups
- Gmail messages and newsletters
- LinkedIn content and updates
- Other supported integrations

The Service generates summaries, insights, trend detection, and recommendations based on content selected or authorized by the user.

3. User Authorization

To provide functionality, users may choose to connect third-party accounts, including Telegram, Google, and LinkedIn.

By connecting an account, you authorize Briefly to access only the data necessary to provide the requested functionality.

Briefly does not intentionally access, collect, or process private content beyond what is required to generate summaries, insights, and related features.

4. User Responsibilities

You are responsible for:

- Maintaining the security of your accounts
- Providing accurate information
- Ensuring you have the right to access and use connected accounts
- Reviewing original content when necessary

You agree not to misuse the Service or attempt to gain unauthorized access to systems, accounts, or data.

5. AI-Generated Content

Briefly uses artificial intelligence technologies to generate summaries, classifications, importance scores, trend detection, and recommendations.

AI-generated content may contain inaccuracies, omissions, or misinterpretations.

Users should not rely solely on generated content when making business, legal, financial, medical, or personal decisions.

6. Third-Party Services

The Service may interact with third-party platforms including:

- Telegram
- Google
- LinkedIn
- AI model providers
- Cloud infrastructure providers

Use of such services is subject to their respective terms and policies.

Briefly is not responsible for the availability, policies, or actions of third-party services.

7. Data Retention and Deletion

Users may disconnect integrations or request deletion of their data at any time.

Upon deletion request, Briefly will remove stored account-related information within a reasonable period, except where retention is required for security, legal, or operational purposes.

8. Service Availability

Briefly may modify, suspend, or discontinue any part of the Service at any time without prior notice.

We do not guarantee uninterrupted availability or error-free operation.

9. Intellectual Property

All software, branding, trademarks, interfaces, and service components of Briefly remain the property of Briefly and its operators unless otherwise stated.

Users retain ownership of their original content and data.

10. Limitation of Liability

The Service is provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, Briefly and its operators shall not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or exemplary damages arising from the use of the Service.

11. Changes to Terms

We may update these Terms from time to time.

Continued use of the Service after updates constitutes acceptance of the revised Terms.
